Chaufeur-Housewife says—
"Austin savings will buy me a complete new outfit!"
My Austin is simply a dream. So easy to hop down to the store in it—easy to park and it spins through traffic with no trouble at all. And economical! I'll soon save enough to buy a complete new outfit! This new convertible, like the Austin 4-door sedan, gives up to 35 miles on a gallon, cuts operating costs as much as 50%. Smart 3-position top adjusts to open, closed, or half-open "coupe de ville" style. U. S. price of $1945 f.o.b. coastal port of entry. (S1795 for the sedan) includes $250 worth of extras like leather upholstery, interior jacking heater, turn signals. Come in person for a demonstration.

Pilot Manager Now Getting Ready For 1953 Ball Season Baseball is the greatest show on earth and the Statesboro Pilots will be in the show when the season opens here April 20 with Sandersville, new entry in the Georgia State League.

Committees are at work getting ready for the 1953 season. The grounds are being put in order. Manager Red Thrasher of the Pilots is busy lining up the 1953 squad and a pre-season ticket campaign has already been started.

Statesboro is in a minor league and minor league baseball is a community enterprise whose purpose is wholesome recreation for the entire community. According to C. B. McAllister, president of the Statesboro club, the promoters of baseball in Statesboro are our own citizens, men who are working hard to keep baseball going here.

Several players who were with the Pilots at the close of the 1952 season will return this spring along with one or two newcomers who have been signed by local officials and Manager Thrasher have lined up other men to give the Statesboro fans a winning team in 1953.

Manager Thrasher will report March 23 and will have his pitchers here the first week in April with the others to report shortly thereafter.

The Pilots are owned and operated by the Statesboro Athletic Association which operates with 55 directors and 11 men Executive Committee. ## Father Learns He Can Join PTA

FATHER gets into the act.

When he finally got around to learning that membership in the Parent-Teacher Association is not confined to Mother and that he could join too he flipped the brim of his hat and said, "I want in too."

And at the organizational meeting of the Statesboro High School P.T.A. held at the high school auditorium last week, nearly as many fathers as mothers and teachers turned out to see what goes on in the schools in which Junior and Mary spends the great part of their young life.

They went so far as to elect Jack Welch as vice president of the organization to work with Mrs. Henry McCormack who was named president.

When the order of business turned up to set a meeting time it was suggested—as a gesture to the father members—that every other meeting be held at night so that the fathers could attend. But the fathers would have none of it. They wanted all the meetings held at a time when they could be present. Working with new enthusiasm they managed to get the group to set the meeting for the fourth Thursday evening in each month at 8 o'clock.

Some of the men carrying the ball at the meeting last week included: Bob Thompson, J. Brantley Johnson, F. C. Parker Jr.

We think it wonderful that Father has finally realized that Junior and Mary are his youngsters too and that it's good to know what they are getting at school.

It's good to know that they are wanting to get to know the teachers with whom Junior and Mary spend most of their day-time hours.

We believe the teachers of our school welcome this new enthusiasm of the fathers and interest of the fathers of the children they teach.

And it presents a new challenge to Mother.

A Worth While Project

ON WEDNESDAY evening of next week Statesboro and Bulloch county will turn out for the first stage production of the Statesboro Little Theatre.

The play, "First Lady," is the story of a woman intent upon getting her man elected president of the United States.

The cast includes Dr. Fielding Russell, Mrs. Bernard Scott, Mrs. Frederick Wilson, Wm. Joe Neville, Bee Carroll, June Carr, Mrs. G. H. Byrd, Mrs. Phil Hamilton, Mrs. Billy Olliff, Mrs. Jim Hays, Al Sutherland, Bernard Scott, Guy Freeman, Lewell Atkins, Billy Wells, Bill Holloway, and Jimmy Gunter—all your friends and our friends.

The Statesboro Little Theatre grew out of an idea dreamed up and promoted by Henry McCormack. He fanned the enthusiasm of those here interested in preserving and developing the legitimate state at the Community level.

And so in February 1952 a group organized itself into the Statesboro Little Theatre.

Their ambition, in addition to presenting fine plays of professional quality, is to have a part in the building of a municipal auditorium in Statesboro to be used for these and similar community projects.

We commend these people and proclaim their ambition a worthy one and deserving of the support of all the city and county.

They Did It Again

THE STILSON BOYS did it last year.

They won the First District Class "C" basketball championship. Then they went on to Macon and won the Georgia State Class "C" Championship.

On Saturday night of last week they did it again. They won the district championship, that is.

And the chances are excellent that they'll repeat their 1952 performance when they go to Macon to participate in the 1953 tournament.

The boys from Stilson, led by Billy Findley, who works the pivot for the Stilson team sunk 36 points as his team defeated Portal 71 to 44.

The same night Register defeated Nevils for the Class "C" consolation prize. So we join the citizens of Stilson in tossing our hat over the wonderful performance put on by their boys.

And we got our rabbit's foot out for them when they go to Macon.

An Unusual Tribute

MEMBERS OF THE V.F.W. of Georgia are being offered an opportunity to pay a special tribute to their late state department commander, Emmett Culbreth, who died last week.

Commander Culbreth had been receiving one or two pints of blood every day for nearly two months before his death.

Now the members of the Georgia Veterans of Foreign Wars are having a special blood collection on Monday, March 16, at Christ Church at St. Julian and Bull Streets in Savannah to honor their deceased commander.

If you are a Veteran of Foreign Wars and want to add a pint of your blood to this tribute, call Phillip Falligant at 549-11, Statesboro, and he'll give the details.

This is a most unusual method of paying tribute to a beloved person. We commend it to all members of the V.F.W.

We Get A Great Lift

BALD HEADED MEN in Bulloch County, as well as those all over the nation, got a terrific lift last week when Charles Antell, a hair specialist, came up with the Statement that President Eisenhower is one among many of the Nation's Chief Executives who have been "bald or near bald."

That places us in a group of the country's great including George Washington, John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Rutherford B. Hayes, and James Garfield, James Buchanan, Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, Calvin Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

With spring coming up we can think of no more stimulating tonic than the feeling that comes with the knowledge that we can count ourselves with the great—that is when speaking of our baldness.

For Dr. Waldo Floyd

UP GOES OUR HAT for Dr. Waldo Floyd.

For on Monday of this week he was elected president of the Statesboro Rotary Club.

It is a high compliment to be named president of this civic club whose membership is made up of business and professional men whose chief aim is the progress and welfare of this community.

Dr. Floyd knows that it will take a lot of his time to fill the position. But he also knows that the membership of the club will pitch in and help him.

He succeeds Horace McDougald and will take office on July 1.

So we toss our hat high in the air for Dr. Floyd on becoming the new president of the Rotary Club, and for Horace McDougald for his year's service with that group.

He's About Well Now

Word now reaches us that Ward Morehouse, husband of Bulloch County's own, Ruth Rebecca Franklin, is out of the hospital and back home and about.

Ward has been very sick—Walter Winchell allowed as how he was in pretty bad shape, but the doctors found that the well known drama critic has a very strong heart which pulled him through.

Now, according to brother-in-law H. V. Franklin Jr., "Ward's going to be hard to handle now that he's about well again."

We're glad Mr. Morehouse has recovered and suggest that he and Ruth Rebecca come back to South Georgia for a spell.

The Rambling Pittmans

FRIENDS—OLD AND NEW SINGLE AND DOUBLE

Everyone has his own system of classifying people. According to their hair—red heads and others, bald heads and others, crew-cut, horse tails and others.

Others classify people according to the foods they eat, the cigarettes they smoke, the kinds of drinks in which they indulge.

As for me, I classify people according to whether or not they are my friends or merely friendly. (I never think of anybody as an enemy.) I think of my friends as being friends of long standing or recently acquired; as being single or double.

Of course I am not going over my three score and ten years and call the roll of all my friends. Good as they were in my pre-Georgia days, I am talking about only my Georgia friends. Even of them, I can mention only a few of the tried and true.

My first friends of welcome to Georgia and Statesboro came in the form of a telegram of congratulations and welcome from Hon. DAVE B. TURNER, president of the Chamber of Commerce in 1924.

BOB DONALDSON guarded the city's entrance and extended the welcome of the college and the community. ALFRED DOHMAN introduced me to "barbecue and Brunswick Stew and hushpuppies."

J. B. RUSHING first supervised me.

CHARLIE OLLIFF trusted me for my first order of groceries.

THE BULLOCH COUNTY BANK granted my first loan and DR. JOHN WHITESIDE gave me the first Georgia pill and applied the first sticking plaster. J. E. McCORMACK showed me the roads and told me the history of Bulloch County. HINTON BOOTH collected my first "bad" account, and made my first income tax report. "MISS ELLA" WATSON told me the first funny little story that gave me a laugh that lasted a long time, and MR. JOHNNY BRANNEN brought me the first big load of real Georgia "lighter knots."

I could go for pages recalling my early days in Statesboro and the names of people who did acts of kindness and friendship.

ELIZABETH DONOVAN illustrated and inspired more good teaching in the elementary schools than any teacher in all Georgia.

"MISS HESSIE" NEWTON lived the most courageous life with the most cheerful spirit of any person that I have ever known.

Last, but by no means the least, "MISS MAE MIKE"—Teachers College's greatest conservator of good standards and the "servant and master" of a long string of College presidents.

Yes sir! The world would be a poor place in which to live and progress would be slow and very imperfect without the inspiration and service of "the old maids."

REMINISCING OVER THE PAST

During these few days of leisure here at home, I have been reminiscing over the past, recalling old friends and past experiences. I have also been observing the young people who are now coming on the scene of action to "carry on the show," when the actors of my generation have passed off the stage.

I am charmed and made confident by the prospects.

A host of young fellows—intelligent, ambitious, well prepared and honest—are "in the wings," with confidence and lines well learned, ready to replace the retiring actors.

This knowledge and assurance makes retirement easy when the future is secure.

What I have said thus far is merely the expression of the male members of the Rambling Pittman Family.

If Mrs. "P" were to make her list of "those held dear" the list would be much longer. It would not only include all those but many, many more—for she has a genius for friendship.

Big Show's Toughest Act

When The Cannon Didn't Fire The Man Was Worried

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL

There is a story about a light house keeper who for forty years had been accustomed to hearing the cannon that went off every hour to warn the ships in the dangerous reefs. One night, on a story goes, the gun failed to fire. Whereupon the lighthouse keeper jumped out of bed and exclaimed, "What was that?"

While there are no guns shooting off every hour at this house, there are other strange noises, and none of them are alike. In fact, they reached the stage where, if things ever really become quiet, we wonder if we, too, wouldn't jump out of our skins and yell, "What was that?"

In the kitchen there is the sound from the refrigerator. That particular noise it makes means that the meat tray is empty—it usually is. The drip, drip, dripping sound is just what the sound usually means—the faucet dripping. (New washers have been put in recently, but they seem to be no good.) That bump, bump, bumping noise is the top of the dripolator. It is in the dishwasher, and the water is knocking it about considerably.

Oh, my slamming door! It is a good door or else it wouldn't still be hanging on its hinges. For eleven years children have been slamming it with all their might. And every time that door slams there follows growls and rars from the big-little papa bear (if he happens to be at home), noises which interpreted mean that a gentle push would do the job just as well.

Don't be worried about the sound of a water fall in the rear of the house. That is the waste water being expelled from the clothes washer and emptying into the laundry tub where it gurgles to the outside. It is generally safe unless one of the Boy Scouts has decided to soak his grimy pots and pans and has left the tub plugged up, and Mamma has forgotten to remove the plug. Then the falls go over the front instead of down the sink.

There is a little more confusion when the heater is going, and the cake is just right at the time when it should not be left, and the laundry is being played too loudly, "O, say can you see" (he has known it well, now, for over a year but seems to fear forgetting it—the way he keeps playing it over and over). And the six-year-old screams something from upstairs. You know from the tone of the scream that she is not hurt. She probably wants nothing more than to have a story read, but she's never learned to come and to ask quietly—she just yells.

Oh, that knocking noise! It is the pump in the basement. The rain's been having lately! Some of them have decided to come into the house by way of the basement, and the pump is shooing them back outside. That grinding noise. Like a horse eating corn from a wooden tub? That's the furnace. (Sometimes the fire goes out, and if no one is here to hear that noise, the hopper empties all the coal into the firebox, and then the head of the house makes a loud groaning noise.)

There is a hissing noise, a wet hissing noise, upstairs. It's merely a leaking valve in the water closet. Why does water have to be both wet and noisy?

There goes the telephone. It has rung no less than ten times in the last hour.

Then night falls, late night falls, and noises but little noise. As a matter of fact, the only noise now is the settling of silence. And, by George! The quiet is nerve racking. We've got insomnia!

Again Mrs. J. B. Johnson, East Hall finds herself the housemother of a queen. This is the fifth and sixth year that East Hall has won the prize. Miss Jones was crowned by an East Hall girl, 22 queen, Bettye Hendrix.

Ushers were Carol Thomas, Jeanette Wallace, June Kennedy, Ann Brown, Juanita Dowdy, and Jean Lambert.

All three girls' dormitories were represented in the finalists of the contest; also all of the classes were represented.

Rudy Mills, Macon junior won a cash star in the form of the trophy which was sponsored by the escorts. Each year it is traditional that the escorts contribute to a jackpot which is provided for the queen. On the night of the event, they draw names of the girls who were contestants, and take one drawing the queen's name wins the jackpot. Rudy Mills was extending his special congratulations and gratitude to Yvonne Jones after discovering the outcome!

STAR-STUDDED TEA FOLLOWED BEAUTY REVUE

A star-studded tea followed the Beauty Revue Friday night. The hostess was West Hall, directed by Vivian Anderson. In honor of the new queen, many students attended the tea and signed their names in the star-spangled guest book.

W. H. McCOMB GETS PROMOTION IN GEORGIA FORESTRY COMMISSION

W. H. McComb, formerly of Statesboro, has been promoted from First District Forester to assistant director of the Georgia Forestry Commission. Mr. McComb has a combined service record of 16 years with the Forestry Commission.

Spaceship Takes Off

In the first act the twenty-four coeds appeared in traveling suits to board the "spaceship" to the stars. Spacemen "Bobby" Brown and Gene Roberts vied for chances to take the girls' luggage into the spaceship. Mollie Denmark, pilot and space spokesman, greeted the girls.

The second act featured the aspiring young stars in evening attire and the escorts appeared for the first time.

Frank Rushing provided "Starlight Melodies" as background organ music.

All Get In Act

Starring in an outstanding capacity in the first act was a small alley cat who wandered out on the stage. She was attired in striking orange and white stripes; her chief personality trait was nonchalance and curiosity.

East Wins

Again Mrs. J. B. Johnson, East Hall finds herself the housemother of a queen. This is the fifth and sixth year that East Hall has won the prize. Miss Jones was crowned by an East Hall girl, 22 queen, Bettye Hendrix.

Yvonne Jones Crowned; Stars As 1953 TC Queen

Miss Yvonne Jones, junior of Waycross, was crowned as 1953 TC queen Friday night when she ascended the "Stairway to a Star" to win the seventh annual beauty revue, sponsored by Alpha Phi Tau.

Miss Jones, placing first as the "Star of Beauty," was escorted by James Hutto, Fort Valley senior, and sponsored by B.S.U.

Yvonne began this climb on the way to the stars three years ago when she, as a freshman, placed in the ten finalists of that revue. Last year she won fourth place and this year is Miss T. C.

Liz Hartley, senior of Sylvania, was chosen for second place honors. She was escorted by Pee Wee DeLoach and sponsored by the Elementary Teachers, A.C.E.

Starting in third place was Marjorie Richard, Augusta sophomore, who was escorted by Jack Upchurch and sponsored by F.B.L.A. Nancy McIntosh, Waycross freshman, played a starry role in the fourth place. Her sponsoring organization was the Science Club and she was escorted by Charlie Evans.

As fifth place star was Miss Betty Arrowood who was sponsored by the "Vets" Club and escorted by Jack Shelmut.

Ten Finalists Chosen

In the third act, the group of 24 contestants was narrowed to ten who were selected to begin to climb up to the "Stairway to a Star."

Queen's Crown

Miss T. C. was crowned Friday night with the same regal head-gear worn by 1952's queen. It is a jeweled crown with gems which were contributed by former students. The original design was created by Art Club members last year. The crown features a dark blue velvet background.

finalists, Peggy Henderson, escorted by Watson Henderson; Betty Ross, Sonny Fordham; Mollie Denmark, Phil Norton; Betty Jo Brown, Conrad Story; and Shirley Dykes, Joe Ed Greene. This was the "ramp" scene which has been a feature of the beauty revue for two years. The beauties walked along the winding ramp and through a star.

HIKIE SCOTT JR ENJOYS BIRTHDAY AND BOW TIES

On Saturday, February 28, Mrs. Emmett Scott entertained with a tea party honoring her son, Hike, (better known as Hike) on his seventh birthday.

A few of his close friends and the family were present. Dorothy has always had a birthday cake and made pictures on her son's birthday. A few days before the GREAT DAY, Hike remarked to his grandmother, Mrs. D. A. Tanner, "I have always wanted a bow tie, but I reckon I'll never have one unless somebody gives me one for my birthday." So prominent among his birthday gifts was a white shirt equipped with a bow tie and cuff links, brought to the party by his aunt, Mrs. Bob Tanner.

Guests for the tea party were Billy White, Ross Kelly, Robert Tanner, Ann Turner, and Wade and Gail Fulmer, cousins from Graniteville, S. C., who, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulmer, were guests of Mrs. Fulmer's mother, Mrs. D. A. Tanner.

HD Agent Reports The Bulloch Herald • Statesboro, Ga. THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1953

On 13 Years Work

Mrs. Irma Lee, home demonstration agent for Bulloch county since 1940 tendered her resignation as of Feb. 1 and submitted a report to the citizens of the county covering the 13 years which shows a remarkable growth of home demonstration work in the county.

Mrs. Lee came to Bulloch county in February of 1940 at which time there were seven home demonstration clubs with a total membership of 250. Today there are 15 clubs with 650 members. During this 13 years the number of 4-H clubs have increased from seven to 10 and the membership from 200 to 590.

During World War II Mrs. Lee won acclaim for Red Cross nutrition and civilian defense work. In 1942 Mrs. Lee started a loan scholarship fund for 4-H girls to attend college.

During her 13 years in Bulloch county, Mrs. Lee has trained seven assistant home demonstration agents. She has served as an officer in the state association and has represented the organization at national conventions. She has sponsored four family life institutes, sponsored the improvement of a hospital room for children, and has sponsored one to four delegates to the state council meeting each year.

From a local standpoint, Mrs. Lee has sponsored many home industries short courses, district council meetings, dress revues, flower shows, camps for girls, and many out-of-county trips for rural women.

Mrs. Lee is a member of the National Home Economics Association, Georgia Home Economics Association, State and National Home Demonstration Agents Association, and other professional societies.

Mrs. Lee will be succeeded by Mrs. Dorothy J. Whitehead, who has been her assistant for five years. The new assistant will be Miss Joyce McDonald, who received her training in Chatham county.

Know Where These People Are Now?

Four people who give their addresses as Statesboro, and one on RFD 1, Rockyford, are among 193 Georgia residents being sought by the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division.

They are Alonzo Ellis, Ada Davis Gordon, Emma Lee Mikell, Pauline Simmons, Statesboro; and Katie Young, RFD 1, Rockyford, Ga.

There is a very good reason for finding these people. Part of the $8,257.94 in unpaid wages are due them. According to James M. Patton, investigating supervisor for the Division in Georgia, there is an average of $47.97 due these people in unpaid wages by various Georgia employers.

The largest amount due any one person is $910.58, but 14 others are due amounts from $108.58 to $372.68.

Persons whose names are above should write to the Restitution Unit, Wage and Hour Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor, 1007 corner Building, Birmingham, Ala., giving current address and listing the employers.

Protestant churches. R. P. Mikell, the president of the club, and the other officers and directors were asked to name committees to work on these five proposals.

KENAN INSTALLS A NEW TYPE PRINTING PRESS

Shields Kenan announced this week that he has added a "Heidelberg" all purpose printing press to his equipment at the Kenan's Print Shop.

He stated that the new press is one of the most unusual on the market and is built to handle printing of every kind. It will do the simplest type of printing to the elaborate four-color work. In commenting on the new press Mr. Kenan said, "If I were not to old my Heidelberg, 'cause you can take it from me, it's a honey."

Mr. Kenan invites the public to come in to see it in operation—it's really a show.

They have worked for in the last two years. Arrangements will then be made to see they are paid the wages it has been determined are due them.

DON'T BURN CORN, COTTON STALKS

Don't burn corn and cotton stalks. They are worth a good deal to the land. They not only add fertilizer materials but help in controlling erosion, and prevent the structure of the soil.

Drops of water falling on a bare soil change the structure of the soil. The surface becomes compacted. A compacted surface layer prevents the rapid penetration of rainfall. Likewise a heavy rainfall on a clean, finely prepared seedbed not only causes serious erosion losses but soon compacts the surface. Then the water can enter the soil at only a slow rate and much of it may be lost as runoff. If a soil is to retain its maximum capacity for absorbing rainfall, the surface must be kept open. Keeping the crop residues such as corn and cotton stalks, etc. on the land, will go a long ways towards keeping the soil from compacting and the water holding capacity high.

Farm Bureau Extension Specialists Give Eight Steps To Prevent Losses To Potato Growers

Sweet potato growers should follow the eight necessary steps to prevent losses from disease, W. C. Carter, extension marketing specialist, stated to the West Side Farm Bureau Tuesday night.

Mr. Carter outlined these steps as using disease free seed, treat seed before bedding, use disease-free beds and no stable manure, plant on land that has not been in sweet potatoes for three or more years, use land for beds and for planting where run-off water from old potato land will not drain on new, do not fertilize with stable manure, save seed grown from vine cuttings only, and exercise utmost care in handling at harvest and in storing to eliminate cuttings and bruising.

Indications are more commercial sweet potatoes will be planted in Bulloch county this year than in several years, if plants are available. S. H. Humeant is putting in a grading and waxing machine and plans to plant some 40 acres. J. I. Wynn, Bobby Clarke, N. J. Chee and Sons, A. J. Dutton, Charles Muldard, R. C. Hall, and others have also indicated good

New Treatment For PAIN RELIEF of ARTHRITIS & RHEUMATISM

ASTHMA? NEFRIN

FRANKLIN Rexall

Medical men, after extensive research and hospital tests, found that pain of Rheumatism and Arthritis could be relieved by a new treatment. It was discovered that patients being treated for a certain ailment, with a respiratory catalyst, if they also, at the same time were suffering from Arthritis or Rheumatism, experienced some relief from the discomforts of these ailments.

An intensive study and research was launched - an analysis was added and many sufferers were relieved of their pain and discomfort by the use of this new treatment. Now many doctors are prescribing and using this combination in relieving the pains and discomforts of Rheumatism and Arthritis. It has been very beneficial to many people who had been sufferers for years.

Lucky Tiger FRANKLIN Rexall

For four weeks you have read in this column the wonderful news-letter from Miss Sadie Maude Moore, who has returned to her missionary work in Korea. We hope you didn't miss a single installment of her letter, for it was packed with varied experiences. Her farewell to friends before going aboard the ship, the storm at sea, the reunion with old friends in Korea, and the realization that Korean Christians demonstrated their leadership and true faith during her enforced absence. This column is never a task, really enjoy doing it, in in Statesboro and Bulloch county, there are stories every day. Stories, though of no particular news value are amusing. Yes, I like to follow our young people on their "stairway to the stars." I like to follow our travelers, the ones leaving strangers coming to us.

For instance there are the Charlies who returned last week from a few days spent in Florida. They visited Eugene's sister, Mrs. T. A. Crowley and her husband "Bing." After enjoying the lovely lights of Miami nights, they, the Cones and the Crowleys, went as far down as Key West "Operation Fishing." On Saturday Mrs. Cone failed to pull in a single fish and she blamed it on Charlie's old reel. (His was new.)

Sunday they spent in sightseeing Monday on their way to a case where they would throw in their reels. Mrs. Cone spied a shop, dealing with fishing tackle, she asked the driver to halt. She bought a new reel. When they approached the bridge off which they planned to fish, there were at least 100 people hanging over the sides—the weather—like a mid-summer day! No one was catching fish. Mrs. Cone made a perfect cast. Then, the great tug on her line excited her so she squealed and everyone hovered around as she landed a three pounder, and in rapid succession, she caught four more fish. No one else caught any.

Charlie and Eugene next visited Lake Wales, Fla., on a different phase of pleasure. They attended "The Passion Play," presented in a huge amphitheater. Though we were having rainy and dismal days here in Statesboro, the weather was perfect in Lake Wales. (To have probably read about it in Life Magazine.) The amphitheater is located in the middle of an orange grove. They both agreed the play was beyond description. There were 5,000 spectators.

They also visited the incredible beautiful Orchid Gardens at Vero Beach, where orchids swayed on trees, from concealed pots. Every lady who visited the garden had an orchid pinned on.

TO NEW YORK CITY
We take you next to New York City—to the Ambassador Hotel on Park Avenue. I received a note from New York's Park Avenue, fingers trembling.

The letter began—"Hi! Jim and I have had and still are having a wonderful time. This "Cinerama," everyone is talking about, is wonderful and exciting. You may use all of your adjectives.

"Besides that we have seen Benjie Little in "A night with Benjie Little." Margaret Sullivan in

The Senior Stunt Night, a Greek drama was presented in burlesque with Jan taking the part of "Leaping Venus." She is an acrobatic dancer and appears in Macon and other nearby towns as artists entertainer for civic and club programs.

In addition to all this Jan Gay's application for Senator Fulbright's Scholarship has been one of four Georgia students to be approved and recommended.

ALPHA OMEGA CHAPTER MET MONDAY NIGHT

Carolyn Brown and Cherie Cobb were co-hostesses Monday evening of last week to the Alpha Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, at the home of Mrs. Rufus Brown on North Main street. Lovely spring flowers were used in decorating the rooms where the meeting was held.

Miss Nona Hodges presented a very interesting program in connection with a film on "Music In America."

Plans were made for the Baby show which will be held at the Recreation Center April 10th. A dessert course was served during the social hour.

Members present were Margaret Wynn, Laura Margaret Godbee, Shirley McCullough, Velma Rose, Virginia Toole, Nona Hodges, Pat Robbins, Jesse Anderson, Helen Thompson, Beverly Neal, Jackie Rushing, Betsy Neal, Jackie Rimes, and Margaret Williams.

RYTHM CLUB DANCE
A patriotic motif in the George Washington manner prevailed in the decorations of the country club for the Rhythm Club dance, Thursday evening, February 19.

Hostesses for the dance were Mrs. John Mooney, Mrs. J. E. Bowen, Mrs. Mrs. Kermil Carr, Mrs. R. J. Kennedy Jr., Mrs. J. C. Hines, Mrs. Grady Attaway, Mrs. Alton Brammen, Mrs. W. D. Lundquist, Mrs. George Bryan, Mrs. Hunter Robertson, Mrs. Hugh Arundel, Mrs. Claud Howard, Mrs. Wendell Burke, Mrs. J. P. Reddick, Mrs. Bob West, Mrs. Don Hackett, and Mrs. Talmadge Ramsey.

The stone mantle was draped with red, white and blue bunting and a large poster of George Washington was flanked by flags. Near the entrance stood a cherry tree with a red hatchet buried in its trunk.

Flags decorated the walls and in between were miniature logs with red hatchets in them.

The table before the picture window had for its central decoration a large crystal bowl filled with red, white and blue flowers, with white glads predominating. Small flags extended from this arrangement to the ends of the table.

Spirited tunes were used in the Paul Jones' Marches. Emma Kelley's Orchestra furnished the music. There were 36 couples at the dance. A salad and sweet course were served.

BROWNIE SCOUTS CELEBRATE THEIR BIRTHDAY

The Brownie Scouts celebrated their third birthday Monday evening, February 23, at a joint meeting of the five patrols.

Quite a number of parents were present. Reports were given by members, and projects were displayed for other patrols and parents to see.

There were beach clogs, scrap books, shadow boxes, and the dried seed pods painted and arranged into designs, jump ropes, comb cases made from old hats with dainty designs applied, and there were squares added to the Brownie afghan.

The Cautious Patrol, under the leadership of Mrs. Barton Lamb, gave a skit entitled "Polly Put the Kettle On."

Mrs. Robert Benson was in charge of serving the birthday cake.

The meeting was dismissed with the Brownie Yell.

DR. AND MRS. MARVIN S. PITTMAN after visiting at the home of Miss Marie Woods and being entertained by many other friends in Statesboro left Wednesday afternoon of last week for

Forestry News

Bulloch Countians are being continuously reminded these days of their stake in forestry and their stake in winning $1,000 in the current Keep Georgia Green Contest. The Bulloch County Keep Green Council, is moving ahead full speed in its project to put Bulloch in the top spot when the judging is completed next spring.

Mr. R. P. Mikell, Keep Green Council chairman, has expressed gratification at the progress made so far and the support the conservation drive has been getting from many of the county's citizens, but at the same time he stressed the fact that even greater organization and greater cooperation on the part of all residents of our community if we are going to achieve the results we seek. These results Mr. Mikell listed not only as being merely the winning of a prize in the contest but the actual prevention of wasteful forest fires and the conservation of our forest wealth in the county—a benefit of far greater importance to all citizens in the county.
